$825 FOR UNKNOWN MADONNA.

Religious Paintings at Anderson's Bring Good Prices.

The pictures in the Francis M. Bacon collection were sold at the Anderson Galleries last night, considering the fact that many of the old paintings and frescoes were by unidentified artists, good prices were realized. The highest price of the evening was $825, paid by J. Locke for a Madonna holding a crucifix and attended by angels with musical instruments. It is Italian, but the artist is unknown. Mr. Locke paid $125 for a gilted panel of Christ and the Apostles.

An early Italian altar piece in three panels, showing the Madonna enthroned and surrounded by saints, went to Mr. Lane for $100. The same buyer paid $200 for an early Italian altar triptych of a Madonna and Child, and $275 for another altar triptych.

J. R. Vanderlip paid $365 for a Madonna and Child by an unknown artist, and Miss C. Tinker bought a Pietà, in four panels, for $225. The "Adoration of the Magi," by Tiepolo, went to Z. M. Hillier. The total for the evening's sale was $5,844, making $10,074 for the Bacon collection to date. The sale concludes this afternoon.

CLUBWOMEN TO SEEK OFFICE.

Decide to Work for Appointment on School Board.

The City Federation of Women's Clubs met yesterday at the Astor and decided to work for the appointment of clubwomen to the school board. The resolution was introduced by Miss Katherine D. Blake, who suggested Mrs. Cornelius Zabinski, Mrs. Clarence Burns, Mrs. Simon Haruch and Miss Florence Guersey.

A resolution was also adopted that the expenses of the president at the State convention be paid so that women of moderate means may take the office, but a resolution to increase the $50 divided among the three other delegates to their full expenses was defeated.

MRS. CHARLES W. FAIRBANKS.

Wife of Ex-Vice-President is a Victim of Pneumonia.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 24.—Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, wife of the ex-Vice-President, died at her home here to-day of pneumonia. Five children and her husband survive her and all were at her bedside except Frederick, who is on his way here from California.

Mrs. Lillian M. Fairbanks was twice president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution and was one of the leaders in that organization for many years. Outside of this work she devoted all of her time to her home. When Mr. Fairbanks was in Washington as Senator and Vice-President she was known as one of the most charming hostesses of the capital and did much entertaining.

She was the daughter of Philander C. Cole of Ohio and her children are Mrs. John W. Timmons, wife of a Lieutenant in the navy; Warren C. Frederick, Richard and Robert. She had been ill for several weeks. Three days ago her husband cancelled his speaking engagements because of the seriousness of her condition.

The sessions of the D. A. R. at which Mrs. Fairbanks was elected were among the stormiest that body has ever known. She was both times the compromise candidate who brought peace to the warring ranks.

James Putnam Kimball.

James Putnam Kimball, geologist, formerly a professor of chemistry and economic geology in the New York Agricultural College, died on Thursday at his home at 52 South View avenue, Fort Chester, N. Y., at the age of 77 years. He was born in Salem, Mass., and received his education at the Lawrence Scientific School, Harvard University, and the universities of Berlin and Göttingen. He was a veteran of the civil war.

Maurice Dillon.

Maurice Dillon, a prominent lawyer of Westchester county, died suddenly of heart disease last evening on his way to his home at 52 South View avenue, Fort Chester. He was born in Norfolk, Conn., sixty-six years ago. He was active in his profession up to the time of his death. Mr. Dillon was a bachelor. He was a member of the Lotos Club of New York. Three brothers survive him.

Sol Litt.

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Sol Litt, 41 years old, long prominent in Chicago theatrical affairs, died of heart disease in his home here to-day. He had been confined to his home for several weeks. He lived in Chicago for the last eighteen years, being engaged in the theatrical business of McVicker's Theatre, as its ownership was changed.

FREAK GOWNS AT HOT SPRINGS.

Bizarre Effects in Peacock Alley Amaze Beholders.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Oct. 24.—Though the display of fashionable clothes worn by society women is a large factor each year in the mid-season atmosphere at Hot Springs, never before has there been such a show of the size and costume. Evening gowns furnish the largest opportunity for eccentricities. In the parade in Peacock Alley last night was one emulating the size of the costume. It was a gold embroidery in the middle of the back and again on each hip.

Numbers of the new lamp shade gowns are worn by the young girls who in sentimentality are inclined to imitate the wired tunic of lace and chiffon with as great dexterity as was required of the wearers of the old time hoop skirts.

Arthur Glibb and his company, Dorothy and Ruth Glibb of New York were hostesses to-day at a luncheon at the Daniel Boone Log Cabin.

Miss Mary Stuart, of New York, and James Shaw arrived to-day from New York. Other arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. George C. Clarke, Jr., Harry Carroll, Harold W. Carhart and B. MacDonald of New York, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hunt and Mrs. Samuel Carr, Boston.
